YAN ZHONG MANDARIN METHOD

The Yan Zhong early learning Mandarin program is a weekly two hour immersive Mandarin language program for students starting at age four, focused on passing the internationally recognized Youth Chinese Test (YCT) and Hanyu Shuiping Kaoshi (HSK) Chinese language proficiency exams for non-native speakers.

PROGRAM METHOD

The Yan Zhong Mandarin Method is a highly effective, classroom-proven language learning system that focuses on the joy of exploring a new language. Through games, song and cultural experiences, students focus on listening and speaking before progressing to reading and writing.

NATIVE SPEAKERS TEACHING YOUNG LEARNERS

The subtleties of any language are best known by people who grew up with it. To ensure the very best experience for all language learners, all of our instructors are native Mandarin speakers. By starting with native speakers at a young age, students improve their chance of success.

INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNIZED

The HSK levels are the internationally recognized standards for Chinese language proficiency. There are 6 levels, measured in the number of Chinese characters and overall communication level. Young students will focus on achieving their level 2, which will provide them with simple, direct communication skills and 300 characters.
